

FIRE DESTROYS HOME AND AUTO—An early morning blaze Tuesday did $7,000 damages to this home at 1912 West Third and $3,000 damage to the contents plus total destruction of a 1962 model Lancer car. The home is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Matheny. An adjoining home occupied by Ruth Noel, 1916 West Third, suffered $300 in damages as result of the intense heat radiated by the fire. Firemen answered the alarm at 1:02 a.m. Matheny told newsmen the fire, of undetermined cause, apparently started in the rear of the garage. He said the car and house were insured, but was not certain of the insurance status on his furniture. The above scene is looking into the garage. (Democrat-Capitol photo)

'To Become President'

Mikoyan to Front Office In Kremlin

MOSCOW (AP)—Anastas I. Zhnev, currently touted as Mikoyan, first deputy premier, is reported to be preparing to move into the Kremlin front office.

His appointment to the largely ceremonial post of president of the Soviet Union is to be announced this week during the session of the Soviet Parliament, according to unconfirmed reports in Moscow and Cairo.

The shift, apparently marking the final stage of the 68-year-old Bolshevik's public career, was expected to set off a chain reaction in the Kremlin hierarchy. Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev, 57, is a member of the all-powerful Communist party Presidium and his role in party affairs was greatly enhanced in June 1963 by his appointment to the key Central Committee secretariat.

Giving up the presidency would free him from protocol duties to devote full time to building his position in the party organization, where the vital battles for the succession to Khrushchev will be fought some day.

Mikoyan's semi-retirement probably would entail the transfer of two of his most important functions to other officials.

These are: Assumption of the premier's duties during Khrushchev's increasingly frequent absences from Moscow.

And his unique role as Khrushchev's personal representative in diplomatic trouble spots.

First Deputy Premier Alexei Kosygin apparently has taken over the first of these jobs. He was pinch-hit government chief during two periods this summer when both Khrushchev and Mikoyan were out of the country.

At the same time, Brezhnev was reported to have taken over Khrushchev's chair as first secretary of the Communist party and to be working closely with Kosygin.

Kosygin, 60, a dour industrial management specialist, has been third man in the government lineup since 1960. He is a member of the Presidium but has little to do with everyday party affairs.

Mikoyan's move to the presidency, if it takes place, will probably be at his own request. Although he appears years younger than his age, he was seriously ill last year and was hospitalized twice.

But as Khrushchev's favorite crony, he is expected to continue to wield considerable influence.

Doctors Sew Hand Back After Mishap

NEW YORK (AP)—Kruger Daniel's left hand, cut off in a power saw accident, has been sewed back to his wrist. Doctors say it'll be at least a week until they can tell whether the graft will take.

Daniel, 29, was injured Monday at the garment shop where he works.

Lonely Life In Jail Cell For Valachi

WASHINGTON (AP)—What ever happened to Joseph Valachi?

The talkative mobster who detailed for the federal government the inner workings of "La Cosa Nostra"—the multimillion-dollar organized crime empire—sits today where he has languished since testifying before a Senate subcommittee last fall—in the District of Columbia jail.

The government has no plans to move him, although a Justice Department official acknowledged that Valachi's storehouse of crime information has been pretty well milked dry.

At 61, Valachi was described by an official who knows him as "in top condition—down to his old fighting weight." In his secluded cell he continues daily calisthenics to keep in shape. He spends much time watching television.

Valachi does not mingle with other prisoners. During the weeks when his name was becoming a household word, the story got out that the underdog who would kill Valachi for breaking the secret oath of world was offering $100,000 to La Cosa Nostra.

He still gets some mail from strangers, a Justice Department official said. Occasionally there's a "crackpot letter" from someone who views him as a stoop-pigeon—but never any serious threats.

An occasional agent wanders over to talk to him, and sometimes law enforcement officers from around the country drop in to see if he can shed new light on their local problems.

Valachi's life is largely the lonely one of a man serving a life term for murder.

Pleased with his brief moment in history, Valachi is described as "glad it's over."

Vietnamese Turn Tables On Viet Cong

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—South Vietnamese government squads, generally operating in stealth at night, have begun a campaign of terror against Viet Cong officials in the Mekong River Delta.

Small teams of commandos, armed with exact intelligence and daggers, are moving into Viet Cong hamlets in critical provinces near Saigon, assassinating key Viet Cong leaders, and slipping away.

They are leaving calling cards on the bodies of their victims—an enormous white eye printed on a black slip of paper.

Officials say the idea is to fight the Viet Cong with Viet Cong tactics.

For years the Communists have terrorized rural government officials, often torturing and slaying their wives and children as well as the officials. Officials hope ultimately to make Viet Cong-like squads the basic front-line militants against the Communists.

"Everything depends on exact and rapid intelligence in penetrating the Viet Cong secret infrastructure," a U.S. adviser said.

"We're using a lot of new tactics, and some are paying off. One is the use of census teams in provinces we're trying to pacify. After the names of each family in a hamlet have been listed, the census team requires that one member of the family come around to answer a questionnaire once every 15 days."

"The man or woman is asked: (Please turn to page 4, col. 2)

Rep. Jones Expected To Be Released Today

ARBYRD, Mo. (AP)—U. S. Rep. Paul C. Jones, D-Mo., injured Monday in an auto accident, was expected to be released from Dunklin County Hospital in Kennett today.

The Missouri Highway Patrol said Jones' car struck a bridge rail when he swerved to avoid a boy who ran across the bridge in front of the car.

The accident occurred on state highway 164, east of Arbyrd in Southeast Missouri. Jones, 63, of Kennett, suffered bruises about the head. He was held overnight for observation.

Farm Pond Victim

MEMPHIS, Mo. (AP)—Mrs. Floyd McKinney, 32, drowned Monday in a farm pond 15 miles northeast of Memphis. The state Highway Patrol said the coroner and the woman's husband both expressed belief the drowning was accidental.

Scranton Won't Repudiate Bitter Attack On Goldwater

Exclusive Convention Report

Romney 'Choice' for Veep

By DREW PEARSON and JACK ANDERSON

SAN FRANCISCO—The lovely Claire Booth Luce, guardian angel of Barry Goldwater, has been fluttering around both camps trying to act as the dove of peace, but has only succeeded in getting her wings clipped.

Her friend, the senator from Arizona finally made it quite clear he was not going to make peace with the governor of Pennsylvania. Except on very harsh terms.

Remarked Maxwell Rabb, former White House secretary in the Eisenhower administration:

"Barry thinks it's a coronation, not a nomination."

During these backstage maneuvers, the crown prince of Arizona remained pleasantly nonchalant and unconcerned. On one occasion Luce Lurie, owner of the Mark Hopkins Hotel in which Goldwater has his headquarters, strolled into Barry's private suite wearing a big "Stop Stassen" button. He was accompanied by Gene Autry who leases the hotel.

They found the top-running candidate fiddling with his short wave radio, not listening to the convention news. He introduced them to various cronies from Bisbee and Tucson, then went on hamming with his radio.

Later in the day he wandered, unannounced into the personal headquarters of Gov. Scranton. Goldwater didn't linger to talk to Scranton, but shook hands cordially with Scranton aides, explaining that he had decided to walk from the 17th floor where he has his personal headquarters to the 15th floor where he has his campaign headquarters. The 16th floor is Scranton's headquarters.

'Unreality' Air Around GOP Meeting

By J. A. DEAR

The Democrat-Capitol GOP Convention Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO—Every great political convention has its elusive air of unreality.

Only the masters of the castle know and understand what is happening. You don't know, and neither does the world at large, even though it watches.

But this Republican convention is unique in that those in control no more understand the probable consequences of their actions than the delegates and other participants who are making their actions fact.

Take Gen. Eisenhower: He can't see that the nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater may be a historic turning point for the Republican party. Because Ike, who once defined himself as a progressive moderate, cannot now distinguish between a conservative and moderate Republican.

Yet this is a distinction that Republicans not caught in this whacky whirl will have no difficulty in making. To hear Ike, you'd think there was no difference between the conservative and moderate viewpoint.

But what moderate could buy the proposition that American foreign policy should be dedicated to the liberty of the Ukraine, which was part of Russia before this country was founded? (The proposition is not conservative, except in terms of current political semantics; it is extremist.)

What moderate will approve a platform that virtually declares war on Castro Cuba? ("We Republicans will recognize a Cuban government in exile; will support its efforts to regain the independence of its homeland; will assist Cuban freedom fighters in carrying on guerrilla warfare against the Communist regime. . .")

And what about the platform commitment to "move decisively" (Please turn to page 4, col. 6)

Barry Charm On for State Delegation

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Missouri delegates to the Republican national convention heard Sen. Barry Goldwater turn on the charm for them today and pledge he would dedicate his life to "a government that will bring peace, not war."

Goldwater spoke to an eight-state Midwest regional breakfast—the first of two breakfasts for the Missourians. They ate bacon and scrambled eggs with Goldwater and later attended a country ham breakfast as the guests of Reps. Thomas B. Curtis and Durward G. Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ginn.

Goldwater told them the platform committee in asserting conservative views "expressed the true sentiment of the overwhelming number of Republicans."

He said the minority "can't get through their heads that this is a true representation of the thinking of the Republican party."

Goldwater promised there would be no fuzziness in his campaign for a free enterprise system.

"If you want a welfare state, socialism and centralized government, you have real experts in this in Washington," he said.

Hall predicted Missouri would oppose any move to impose a secret ballot or change the majority platform report. He said the delegation probably would caucus later today.

Barry Says Party Should Dig At LBJ

Complains Fellow Republicans Inflict 'Harmful Wounds'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater complained today that attacks by fellow Republicans would do him as much harm as the Democrats could inflict.

But his only real rival for the GOP presidential nomination, Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, refused to repudiate a bitter letter lashing the Arizona conservative and challenging him to a debate at the national convention.

As Goldwater scouted today for strays to add to his delegate herd—and Republicans plotted to stampee it with a platform showdown—Scranton issued a "No, I won't" when asked if he would retract his Sunday letter to Goldwater.

It accused Goldwater's campaign managers of "open contempt for the dignity, integrity and common sense of the convention" and of treating the delegates like "a flock of chickens whose necks will be wrung at will."

Scranton confirmed that "It is true that I did not write it and did not see it and did not sign it." But he added, on the television show he conducts at the convention, "I do not disavow the responsibility for that letter" because it was produced by his staff.

Asked whether he was now trying to mend his differences with Goldwater with the chance he might be asked to be the senator's running mate, Scranton said:

"I've made it very clear I will not run for vice president."

Claiming that he has more than enough votes for the GOP presidential nomination on the first ballot Wednesday night, Goldwater dropped in this morning on the Oregon delegation. It is committed to New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller on the first ballot.

Goldwater got only a lukewarm reception, got caught up in a minor debate with one delegate and told the Oregonians that Democrats can do no more damage to me than some Republicans have already done."

"Republicans," he argued, "should have discussed the failing of the Johnson administration, not whether Goldwater wanted to drop a nuclear bomb."

Later he moved on to a breakfast with Midwestern supporters where he said the platform committee and its proposals reflect "the true sentiment of most Republicans."

Scranton backers plan to aim their fading stop-Goldwater drive at the carefully carpentered platform bearing the senator's endorsement. They hope to smash through three amendments to it.

Women Can Meet Men Students In Rooms

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP)—Rutgers University has let down the bars against visits by women to men's dormitory rooms.

The university board of governors approved, without discussion, a recommendation under which women may visit the rooms at certain hours and so long as doors to the rooms remain open.

Past Crime Violators Buy Weapons By Mail

CHICAGO (AP)—Police Supt. O. W. Wilson says that a check of records shows that in a three-month period 13 Chicagoans once arrested on murder charges had bought guns by mail.

Other mail order firearms purchasers included 58 persons arrested for robbery, 42 for burglary, 83 for carrying concealed firearms and 111 for assault.

Wilson said Monday that police got the information from invoice records supplied by a U.S. Senate subcommittee.

Wilson said there is nothing police can do about such sales at present.

Youth Coaxed Back From A High Ledge

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A youth threatened for almost three hours to jump from the 16th floor of a downtown St. Louis building Monday night before being coaxed inside.

More than 1,000 persons saw Charley Bryant, 19, of Centerville, Ill., finally yield to the pleas of his former girl friend, his best friend and a priest.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Do you know of any place I can go to get my voice changed? Somehow I managed to raise five children with this voice and it didn't seem to have a bad effect on them. Now, however, I am told that my harsh voice scares my grandchildren to death and that I'd better do something about it.

I am 64 years old and feel that a person is never too old to learn. My husband says you can't teach an old horse new tricks, and that my voice has been good enough for him these past 35 years—and to leave it alone.

What do you say?—FRIGHTENER OF LITTLE CHILDREN

Dear Frightener: People are not horses—they can and do learn at all ages, but I am not going to send a 64-year-old woman to speech school to please her daughter (in-law, I'll bet!).

Dear Ann Landers: Elwood and I have been married eight years. We have had our share of minor squabbles but I can truthfully say we've never had any serious trouble—until last week. For my 30th birthday he bought me a little car and is teaching me to drive.

I was smart enough to give him three fine children, but suddenly I am the dumbest, most uncoordinated person who ever lived. He says my reflexes are so slow it's a miracle I'm still alive. The list of insults he has handed out since he's been trying to teach me to drive would take up your whole column.

People Mentally Allergic To Machine-Age Gadgets

NEW YORK (AP)—One of life's little ordeals is the machine age.

While the more sophisticated members of the human race speak knowingly of the nuclear age and the challenge of the space age, most of the people on earth still have little or no knowledge of how to deal with the gadgets of the machine age.

This is true even in highly civilized countries. There are a surprising number of people to whom anything operating mechanically remains a lifelong mystery.

They may have a superior intelligence in other ways, but they simply are mentally allergic to gadgets, gears and wheels.

Degrees of mechanical ineptitude vary. Millions of Americans are unable to learn to drive an automobile. Others can't even drive a nail with a hammer.

Such people are more to be pitied than censured. At times—if they can just keep their thumbs out of the way—they may even manage to do good in the world.

My own existence has been one long struggle with the machine age. I was born too late to have to deal with the problem of harnessing horses, and too ignorant or too proud to cope with the problems of the gasoline engine and the electric motor.

I first realized what life held in store for me when I made a simple wooden bookrack in grammar school, and the blighted thing fell apart before I could get my handiwork home. If I planted a tree, the roots came

778 TONS OF SHALE IN AN 8 HOUR DAY

"If you don't think Dodge builds tough trucks, just come and spend one hour watching my Dodges at work. On February 2, 1963, using two Dodge tractor-trailer units and four Dodge bobtails, I hauled 778 tons of shale in an eight-hour shift. Each round trip was 13 miles long and took a half-hour to make. Every foot of it was over rough country roads with plenty of steep climbs. One of my Dodges, a D500, has gone well over 300,000 miles on a single engine overhaul. It still has its original U-joints and wheel bearings. Another Dodge, a D600, has gone over 100,000 miles with no work on it at all!" Max Corp., Catoosa, Oklahoma. The two Dodge truck models Mr. Corp. mentions, D500 and D600, have been changed just recently under our policy of running improvements. Now, a new 318 Premium V8 engine is standard on the D600, optional on the D500. This 318 cubic inch engine has features like these to make it super-tough: A hardened and shot-peened crankshaft; tri-metal main and connecting rod bearings; Stellite-faced exhaust valves; modified cam lobes for longer valve life; and many other long-life features. Talk to your dependable Dodge truck dealer. About running improvements. About prices, lower than most of the competition, right in line with the rest. About a liberal finance plan, too.

Mrs. Nadyne G. Stohr, wife of George Stohr, 510 West Sixth, died at 3:40 p.m. Monday.

She was born in Sedalia, March 10, 1899, daughter of the late A. C. Ford and Mrs. Georgia M. Ford. She was married June 10, 1931, to George Stohr in Sedalia.

Surviving are her husband, of the home; a daughter, Cathleen Stohr, of the home; her mother, Mrs. Georgia M. Ford, of the home; and three grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by a daughter, Jo Ann Deady, March 26, 1964, and her father.

Friends will recite the rosary at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the McLaughlin Funeral Chapel and the Daughters of Isabella will recite the rosary at 8 p.m. at the Chapel.

Funeral services will be held at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at the Sacred Heart Church.

Pallbearers will be Jerry Sullivan, George Loring, Pat Handley, Charles Bolton, Clinton Black and Larry Riley.

Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

The body is at the McLaughlin Funeral Chapel.

Mildred Overstreet (Stockton, Calif.)

Mrs. Mildred Malone Overstreet, Stockton, Calif., widow of the late Linn Overstreet, who was born and reared in Sedalia, died Sunday after a lingering illness.

She is survived by two sons, David Milton Overstreet III of Los Angeles, Calif., and William Overstreet of New York City; two brothers and a sister in Arkansas and two grandsons. Also a brother-in-law, Bob Overstreet, and two sisters-in-law, Vera Harris and Melva Overstreet, of Sedalia.

Funeral services and burial will be in Stockton, Calif., Wednesday morning.

Charles Gladfelter (Windsor)

Charles Irl Gladfelter, 80, Windsor, died at 4:55 a.m. Tuesday at the Windsor Hospital.

He was born near Windsor in Benton County, Dec. 29, 1883, the son of the late A. David and Elizabeth Armita Gladfelter.

He was reared in the Windsor community and on April 19, 1905, he was married to Bessie May Bradley of Benton County, who preceded him in death Jan. 14, 1940. To this union one son was born.

On Aug. 6, 1956, he was married to Etta O. Bradley of Windsor.

He was a rural mail carrier out of Windsor for 30 years. He was a member of Calvary Baptist Church and Masonic Lodge No. 29 A.F. & A.M. of Windsor.

Bombs And Torches Feed Dixie Discord

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Bombs and torches have intermittently fed racial discord in the South during seven long years of gradual and often grudging change in segregation patterns.

The targets have been houses of worship — churches, synagogues, temples—the homes of ministers, of integration leaders, and schools and businesses.

From early 1957 when blasts went off at four Negro churches and two ministers' homes in Montgomery, Ala., until September 1963, there were no bomb or fire fatalities.

The worst of the violence came last Sept. 15 in Birmingham, Ala. A stunning explosion blew a big hole in the 16th Street Baptist Church during Sunday school, killing four Negro girls and injuring a score of other persons.

Fires and bombings had dwindled again until the burning or attempted burning of eight Negro churches during the past month in rural areas of Mississippi.

Fires destroyed two rural churches near Kingston, Miss., only Monday. It was a church burning at Priadelphia, Miss., earlier that figured in the disappearance of three civil-rights workers on their way to visit the scene of the blaze.

The pre-dawn bombings in Montgomery came after city buses had been desegregated under a court ruling and followed a year-long bus boycott by Negroes.

Georgia was shaken by more bombs in 1961, eight within the first six months.

Then, in 1962, south Georgia became the scene of violence. Within the next two weeks fire leveled four Negro churches in the area. But these fires marked the only convictions in the arson and bombing raids.

Seven-year prison terms were meted to three men who pleaded guilty to one of the church fires. And indignant white residents joined in helping rebuild the churches.

Bomb-plagued Birmingham has recorded no fewer than 45 unsolved explosions during the past 15 years. In the Montgomery and Atlanta bombings, trials of white men accused of the crimes resulted in acquittals.

Knob Noster Invites Bids For City Hall

Knob Noster board of aldermen passed a resolution Monday night authorizing requesting of bids for the new city hall. All members and Mayor Quentin Briggs were present.

Bids will be accepted by City Clerk Bob Carr until Aug. 17, when bids will be opened at 8 p.m. Carr stated plans and specifications are on file at his place of business, Knob Noster Locker Company, and are available to the public for inspection. Plans can be obtained for a $20 deposit, refundable if plans are returned in good condition.

Missouri Pacific Railroad representatives from St. Louis appeared and asked that ordinances regulating speed of trains through the city be changed. The council took the request under advisement.

Council discussed condition of vacant lots and other places where clean-up work needs to be done. The chief of police was directed to make arrests if areas previously brought to the attention of property owners as needing to be cleaned up were not taken care of.

It was also announced the new bridge on South Washington Street will not be ready for use until July 25. Traffic will be detoured until that date.

Pistol Practice For Policemen

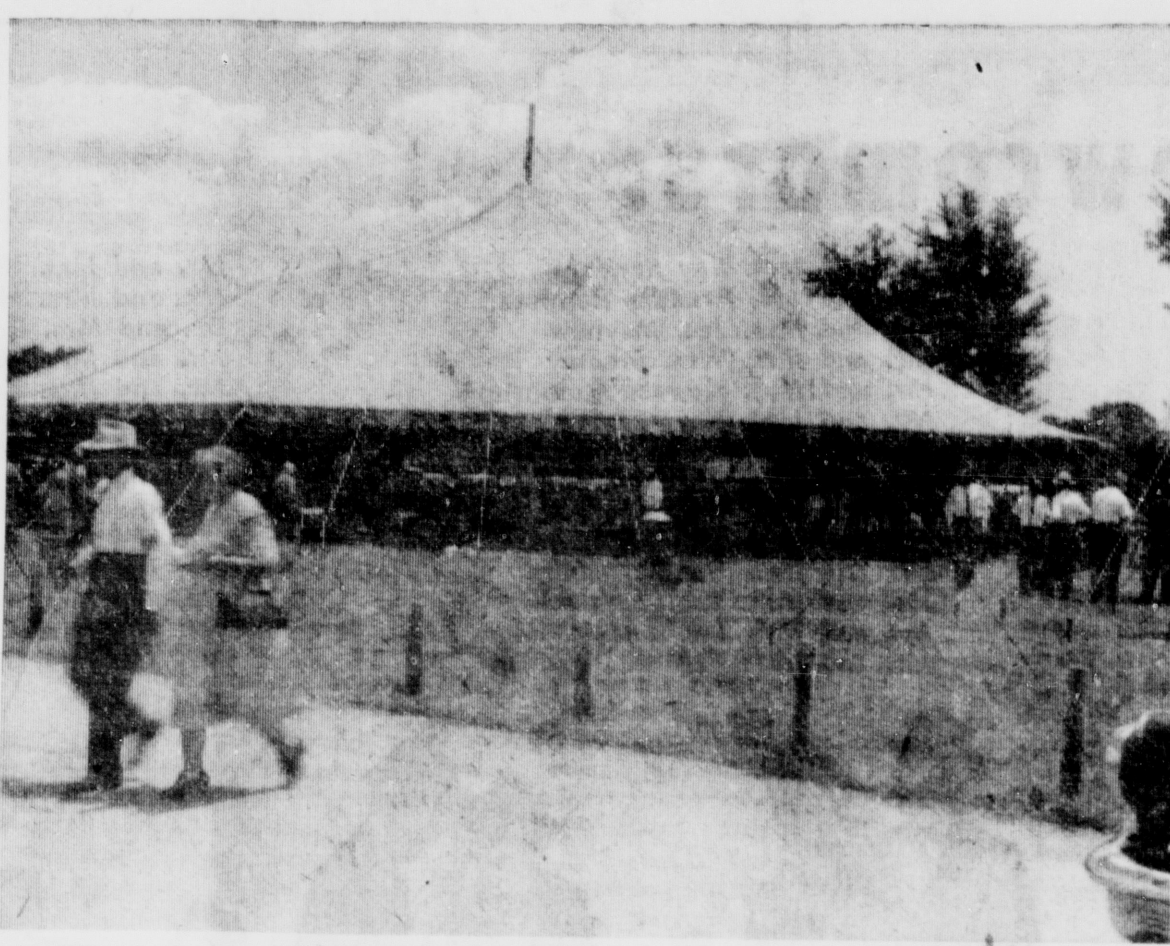

Members of the Sedalia Police Department got in some pistol target practice at the Rod & Gun Club range south of Sedalia on Tuesday. Firing sessions were held both in the morning and afternoon.

The department had not held a pistol practice session for about a year and the lapse was 18 months prior to the last firing.

Chief of Police William Miller said all firing today was done from 25-yards at bullseye type targets. Miller said he hopes to initiate pistol practice at least every three months for the department, but pointed out these plans could not be finalized until the department's budget is completed by City Council.

A pistol range below the dam of the sewage treatment lagoon to be constructed near the city's north disposal plant is being contemplated.

Circuit Court

Exceptions are on file in Circuit Court on behalf of both the State Highway Commission and several of the condemnation defendants in regard to the report of commissioners appointed by the court to appraise land involved in the relocation of Highway 50 in eastern Pettis County near Smithton.

Latest to file exceptions to the appraisal of the commissioners were Howard D. and Lucile Hall, who Monday filed their petition alleging the $38,375 amount was "less than just" and requesting a new assessment of damages be made by a Circuit Court jury.

The State Highway Commission had filed previously on Friday their exceptions to the commissioners' appraisal of the Hall property and others claiming the commissioners, award of damages was too high.

The Highway Commission also took exception to the $11,000 award to Charles and Opal Lee Blumh, the $4,000 award to Clara M. Armstrong and the Skelly Oil Company and the $2,000 award to Paul O. and Leone A. Selken.

Mr. and Mrs. Blumh on Friday also filed exceptions stating the $11,000 award was less than just and Clara M. Armstrong filed a like exception.

Unless a settlement is reached, the claims of the Highway Commission and defendants will have to be resolved by a jury trial.

Police Reports

Charles Zimmerman, 320 North Quincy, reported the theft of a .22 caliber pistol from the glove compartment of his car while the vehicle was parked between 9:15 and 10:30 p. m. Monday at the Micholob Inn, 16th and Ohio.

Police were informed the stop sign at Clinton Road and Grand was down and lying beside the road Tuesday morning.

Jess White, 18th and Beacon, reported to police Monday that three youths took approximately one-half tank of gasoline from his car at 12:20 a. m. Saturday. A description of the car that the youths were in was turned over to police and the investigation is continuing.

A beige reversible purse containing 60 cents was turned in to police Monday evening by Miss Kathy Gibson, 210 Driftwood. Miss Gibson found the purse on the tennis courts behind Smith-Cotton High School.

Hurt at Convention

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mrs. William Weldon of Jefferson City, here for the Republican convention, suffered a cut foot in one of the crowded hotel lobbies.

She said a woman turned over a glass water jug which fell on her foot causing a cut that required several stitches. She described the injury as minor.

Mrs. Weldon and her husband are here representing the Jefferson City News and Tribune, radio station KWOS, KRCG-TV of Jefferson City and KMOS-TV of Sedalia.

on a routine mission when it was stopped by road mines. Volleys of fire poured into the seven trucks, four armored cars, and five jeeps. Most of the casualties occurred in the first few minutes of the ambush, U.S. sources said.

The firefight lasted about an hour, the American spokesman said. Then the Communists slipped back into the jungle. Ranger troops and fighter-bombers were sent to the area but made no contact with the attackers.

American sources said the major who was killed was the senior military adviser in Binh Long Province and the two captains were the intelligence officer for the province and a Ranger adviser to the Vietnamese army's 34th Battalion.

ly to assure victory in South Viet Nam? Suppose after the trees are defoliated, which Barry says is a suggestion that will be rejected, and the lines of communication with North Viet Nam are broken, that the misguided inhabitants of South Viet Nam continue the revolution? Do we then achieve victory by killing them all? If the Communists wish to control people this at least would deny them victory.

Moderates know that nothing increases federal power and centralization more than war or the threat of war. Yet Barry's platform demands decentralization and lower federal expenditures while explicitly endorsing a program that increases the probability of war.

And what about Barry and civil rights? Before the convention, but after passage of the civil rights law that he said was unconstitutional and could be enforced only by a police state, the senator summoned a group of "trustworthy" reporters to his office. He wondered about the propriety of his candidacy if the summer should bring racial violence. He is clean; he is unbiased personally. But what about the dismembered bodies that float under the Spanish moss along the slow rivers in Mississippi and Louisiana?

There is no appeal in any of this to moderates. Because there are so many of them, it is dangerous to offend their sensibilities. But Barry and his followers are oblivious of the danger.

Missourians Not Expected To Accept Any New Changes

By LARRY HALL
Associated Press Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The co-chairman of the Missouri delegation predicted it would oppose any move by Scranton forces today to impose a secret ballot or change the platform draft at the Republican national convention.

Since supporters of Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton were defeated in a trial balloon attempt to change the rules Monday, Rep. Durward G. Hall of Springfield said, "I think they have been pretty well defeated, gut gulched and sunk."

The Missouri delegation is credited with being for Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater 23-1, with one for Scranton, although three delegates are not publicly committed.

In view of that 23-1 balance, Hall said he thought the Missourians would oppose any move to change the civil rights plank of the majority platform report, or any attempt to have state delegations vote in secret.

"Our feeling is that the voting should be an open book for the whole nation to see," Hall said.

A Missourian occupied the convention spotlight for the first time at the end of the first night session.

The Rev. Robert A. Bartel, Baptist pastor of the Little Bonne Femme Church south of Columbia, Mo., gave the benediction to close the first day's proceedings.

The Rev. Bartel has been pastor for the last 17 years of the church of "The Good Little Lady" whose history goes back to 1819. Some of the original structure still stands.

It was also the site of the Bonne Femme Academy which the Rev. Bartel believes may have been the first institution of

Youth Electrocutd

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—An 18-year-old youth was electrocuted on a job he had planned to quit within an hour of his death today.

Wayne J. Hatfield, whose clothes were wet from working in an ice house, reached for a pole to lift himself to the loading dock and grabbed an electric switch carrying 220 volts instead.

City Planning Meet

Members of the city Planning and Zoning Commission and the Traffic Advisory Committee meet Wednesday night at 7 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce office with representatives of the Hare & Hare city planning firm.

The meeting is fifth in a series of 10 monthly discussions of various phases of the city plan being revised by the Hare & Hare planners.

The agenda includes discussion of the preliminary central business district plan and public buildings, along with a refined thoroughfare plan.

second impossible of fulfillment.

Later, Goldwater campaign managers held a long huddle in his tightly guarded headquarters and came up with one firm conclusion regarding Barry's running-mate. Barry himself was not present, but presumably operating his short-wave radio.

Given the instruction that Goldwater would not take Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge because he's too old: "over the hill," as he expressed it, his handlers finally came up with the compromise running-mate of Michigan's George Romney.

Goldwater's personal choice still remains William Miller, Congressman from Lockport, N.Y., and chairman of the Republican national committee, who had plugged so skillfully inside the committee for Barry when he was supposed to be neutral.

However, the Goldwater managers, more realistic and anxious to heal the wounds between Republican liberals and conservatives, decided after several hours of discussion, that Gov. Romney, with a God-fearing Mormon background, would be the best man.

$210,000 Bond Election Set At Bunceton

A $210,000 water and sewerage improvement bond referendum will be held Aug. 4 in Bunceton, according to Bill Bishop, mayor. The town now has no sewerage facilities.

The referendum includes two propositions, one a general obligation bond issue of $50,000 to improve the systems, and the other, a revenue bond issue of $160,000, with the proceeds also used toward improvement of the systems.

The funds will build a new water tower and improve and extend the water system, and add the sewerage system, Mayor Bishop said.

The polls will open at 6 a.m. and close at sunset, with the west ward voting at the Missouri Utilities office, and the east ward in the Bunceton High school.

The general obligation bonds, the smaller figure of $50,000, obligate the city to pay them off through taxes. The revenue bonds are self-liquidating, in that the proceeds from the expanded facilities will pay for the bonds, and they do not form a lien against city-owned property.

A mass meeting has been called for July 24 to discuss the proposals, Bishop said today.

Trimble Backing From Star For Attorney General

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Star today endorsed James G. Trimble, state representative from Clay County, for the Democratic nomination for state attorney general.

"Trimble has the advantage of a grasp of Missouri's problems," the Star said in its editorial of endorsement, "and, in past years, has demonstrated that he can handle difficult assignments effectively."

"We have no way of knowing how his opponent, Norman Anderson, would perform in office. As the prosecuting attorney of St. Louis County, Anderson became known as a capable public servant. However, Anderson does not have a statewide image. So far, he has not come to grips with the problems that affect Missouri as a whole."

Wallace Wins Some Rounds In Decision

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A three-judge federal panel has ordered Gov. George C. Wallace and the State Board of Education to cease interfering with school desegregation.

The order Monday noticeably did not order statewide integration. Instead, it:

—Prevents Wallace, State School Supt. Austin Meadows and other members of the State Board of Education from interfering with any desegregation order a federal court might hand down.

—Orders the Macon (Tuskegee) County School Board to desegregate immediately all four high school grades from the 9th to the 12th and at least one elementary grade in every school.

—Reminds the State Board of Education for "failing, in the exercise of its control and supervision over the public schools of this state, to use such control and supervision... to promote and encourage the elimination of racial discrimination."

—Prevents the state from using public funds to support private, segregated schools.

However, the injunction did not:

—Order statewide desegregation of schools.

—Prohibit state authorities from continuing to allocate funds for segregated schools.

—Rule Alabama's pupil placement law unconstitutional.

The three judges — Richard Rives of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals and District Court Judges H. H. Grooms of Birmingham and Frank M. Johnson of Montgomery—made it clear that they will retain jurisdiction and may take further action "if such interference continues or occurs in the future—either directly or indirectly—through the use of subtle coercion or outright interference when the local school authorities are attempting to comply with the desegregation orders of a federal court."

Youth Who Shot His Cousin Is Committed

UNIONVILLE, Mo. — Richard Longnecker, 13, of Sioux City, Iowa was committed to the state hospital at Fulton by a circuit judge Monday in connection with the slaying of the boy's cousin at Newtown, Mo. July 3.

Circuit Judge J. Morgan Donelson of Princeton said the Longnecker boy shot his cousin, 21-year-old Michael Peterson, in the back of the head with a .22 rifle as Peterson was watching television.

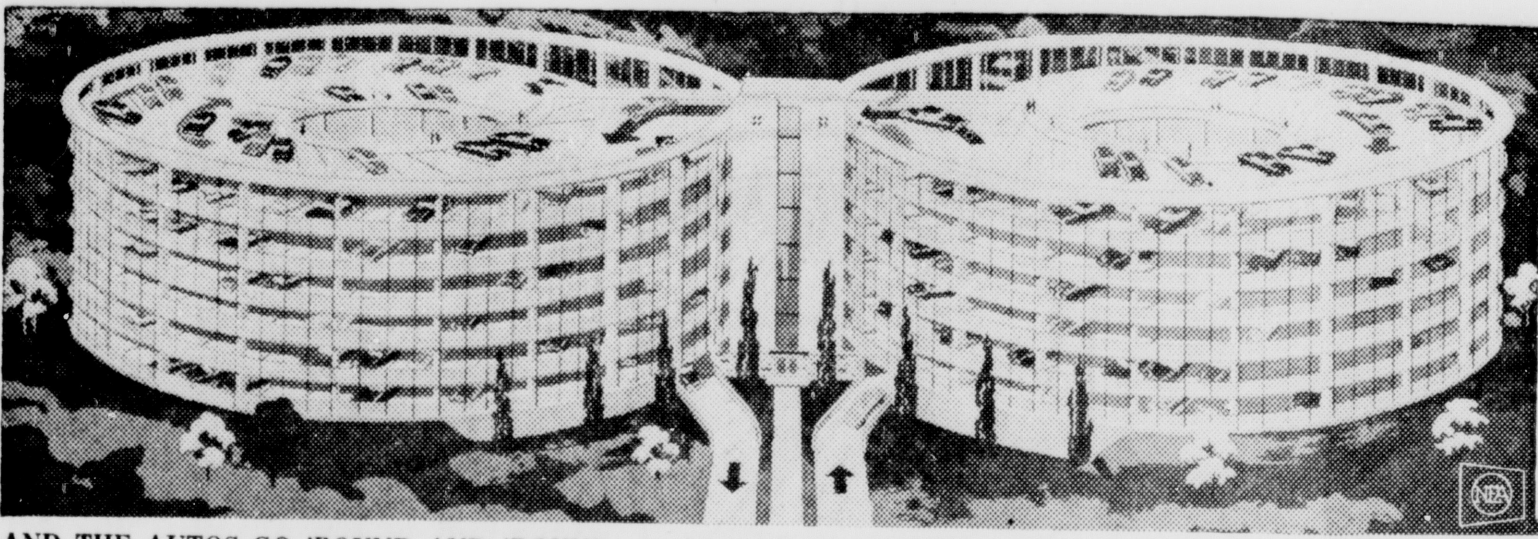

No motive was disclosed. The boy had spent the last four summers with the Peterson family. He was found walking along a highway near Unionville the day after the slaying.

The judge said the boy was committed for "psychiatric examination, evaluation and treatment, if necessary."

Sikeston Youth Is Killed on Highway

SIKESTON, Mo. — A Sikeston boy was killed when a car struck him Monday on U. S. Highway 61, north of Sikeston.

Police said Terry Joe Clark, 8, ran from behind a truck into the path of the auto. The driver was not held.

AND THE AUTOS GO 'ROUND AND 'ROUND—Looking something like two fat, raisin-filled cookies, these proposed masses of circular concrete have been designed to meet the need for attractive, convenient, low-cost self-parking facilities. Called Spira-Park, the new proposal combines concrete spirals—one up and one down—with cross-overs at each level. With parking stalls on both sides of the one-way lanes, a three-loop Spira-Park can house 460 cars, a seven-looper will hold 1,060 cars. The system was developed by the Austin Co., Cleveland, Ohio.

World News Glimpses

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—A "little summit" conference is shaping up for the celebration next week of the 20th anniversary of Poland's Communist regime.

The Soviet news agency Tass reported Monday night that Soviet Premier Khrushchev would attend. Warsaw newspapers announced today that President Antonin Novotny of Czechoslovakia and Walter Ulbricht, Communist party chief of East Germany, also would come to Warsaw.

GENEVA (AP)—An 85-nation education conference called to combat illiteracy collapsed Monday in a dispute over Portugal's colonial policy.

Delegations from Africa, Asia and the Soviet bloc voted to expel Portugal from the meeting. All Latin-American and Western nations except Sweden and Finland walked out before the vote.

After the vote the U.N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization and the International Bureau of Education, joint organizers of the meeting, declared the conference over.

CAIRO (AP)—The United Arab Republic and Yemen will set up a committee to coordinate political and economic policy as a step toward eventual union.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the U.A.R. and President Abdullah Al-Sallal of Yemen signed the agreement Monday night. Egypt has reached a similar accord with Iraq and is negotiating for one with Algeria, Nasser said in a radio address.

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—The Greek government says it has no knowledge of a plot to assassinate Premier George Papandreu, reported by Athens newspapers.

The reports Monday said the would-be assassin was arrested recently in Salonika, in northern Greece, as he was trying to import a rifle.

Independence Officer Will Assist Truman

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—An officer of the Independence police department — Lt. Paul (Mike) Westwood—has been assigned to help former President Harry S. Truman in some activities.

Chief Barney Myers said Westwood will be assigned to visiting persons and dignitaries at the Truman Library to assist Truman in any manner felt necessary. Westwood also will be available to drive the 80-year-old former president on various trips in the area.

Killed When Car Takes Erratic Path

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—Helen Mc Clure, 66, of Route 2 Elkland, was killed Monday when the car she was driving zig-zagged across a main street in downtown Springfield and hit two poles.

Police said the gas pedal was stuck to the floor after the accident but it was not certain whether this was caused by the accident or had become stuck just before the mishap.

The Greene County coroner, Ralph Thieme, said no autopsy was planned. He said the victim had no symptoms of a heart attack, and that the accident injuries were enough to have caused death.

Urges a Crackdown On Marginal Firms

KANSAS CITY (AP)—State Rep. James G. Trimble, D-Clay County Monday called for a crackdown on "marginal" insurance operations that are "defrauding the public and hurting the reputation of the entire industry."

Trimble, candidate for Democratic nomination for attorney general, spoke to the Missouri Capital Stock Insurance Association. He urged updating of Missouri insurance laws and expansion of the state Insurance Department.

Trimble also suggested a creation of a state fire marshal to cope with arson cases.

The Sedalia Democrat-Capital NEWSPAPERBOY HONOR ROLL

For June, 1964
SEDALIA WINNERS

Dennis Tinker

In his first full month as a Democrat route manager Dennis Tinker increased his business, managed his route so well, that he ranked first among all boys in his area. Dennis is the 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Tinker, 501 North Quincy. Next fall he will be in the 8th grade at Smith-Cotton. Last year he was on the track team at Mark Twain Elementary School. He is a 1st class scout in Boy Scout Troop 37 and is a member of Bethany Baptist Church. Dennis says he likes to fish for his main hobby.

Rodney Corpening

Rodney Corpening, 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Corpening, follows in his older brother's footsteps and takes first place honors on the Honor Roll for his district. Rodney is managing his route in fine fashion and his customers have already come to depend on his good service. He is a 2nd class scout in Boy Scout Troop 50 and is playing Little League baseball on the Post 16 Team. He lists his hobby as building model cars and also enjoys playing the violin. He will be in the 7th grade at Washington School next fall.

AREA WINNERS

Dale Potter
Warrensburg

Topping the boys in his area for June on the Honor Roll is Dale Potter, one of the Sedalia Democrat's route managers in Warrensburg. Dale is 15 years old and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Potter who live at 309 Ming. Since he assumed the management of his route last April Dale has done fine work and his route business has grown. Next fall he will be a sophomore at Warrensburg High School. He likes to fish and hunt and also dabble in oil painting. He attends the Warrensburg Christian Church.

Paul Lang
Tipton

Paul Lang again tops his list as the route manager of the month in his area. For the fourth month out of the past five he has taken first place. The 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lang, he has managed the Democrat route for two years and has done outstanding work. He is keeping busy this summer playing ball in Little League, serving Mass, and pursuing his hobby of entomology, in addition to managing his route. He will be in the 8th grade next fall at St. Andrew's Catholic School in Tipton.

One for the Road in Tanks

How many fatal automobile accidents occur whose cause remains speculative or undetermined?

Mechanical and tire failures, driver miscalculations, weather conditions, highway imperfections are among numerous reasons for deaths and injuries.

However, never known are the causes of many tragedies the responsibility for which was a driver's over indulgence of intoxicating drinks.

Frequently the one for the road turns out to be one for eternity for the individual and more often than not that one drink results in the mortal end for innocent people, too.

Speaking of "one for the road" whoever heard of a 6,000-gallon Martini?

Something close to that shapes up in the contents of a western trucking company's stainless steel tank trucks. The tankers have four compartments: bulk gin in one, vodka in another, vermouth in a third and olives in a fourth. It's a matter of economy — cheaper to ship by bulk than by bottle.

Facetiously speaking, this venture is the only instance recorded where alcohol and driving go together safely — and even so potential hazards exist on the highways.

The obvious moral here is that transportation of alcoholic beverages is much to be preferred inside stainless steel containers rather than inside the stomach of a motor vehicle driver.

Goldwater's Early Career Discussed

By DREW PEARSON

SAN FRANCISCO—Seldom has a political party been on the verge of nominating a candidate with so little actually known about his past.

Barry Goldwater has shaken more hands than any candidate except the late Estes Kefauver. He has made so many speeches on so many subjects he can't remember what he's said. He has written a book, syndicated a daily column, and used a ghost writer, Stephen Shadegg, whose firm, the S and K Laboratories of Phoenix, was paid a mysterious $4,000 a month by the Republican Senate campaign committee while Goldwater was chairman of that committee.

But, despite all this publicity and these many personal appearances, the delegates voting at San Francisco actually know very little about the real background of their top candidate. They don't even know why a Phoenix laboratory which makes "Adreno-Mist" to relieve asthma should have been getting $4,000 a month, and why this should have been paid by all Republican contributors.

Nor do they have any idea where the tremendous amount of money Goldwater has been spending during the past two years comes from.

More important, they know little about Goldwater's early career. His campaign literature at first stated that he was a "graduate" of the University of Arizona. This has now been withdrawn. It's admitted he did not attend college after his freshman year. But the university is very secretive about this and will not open its records.

My own investigation shows that he was "dropped" from the university after the first semester for failure to attend classes. He was reinstated after the lapse of one semester, but did not complete that semester. Goldwater headquarters state that he left at the end of the freshman year to help in his father's store.

Nervous Breakdown?

Mrs. Goldwater, interviewed in Good Housekeeping for May, states that while working in the family store her husband suffered a nervous breakdown, but after a lengthy rest he went back to work.

"But two years later," Mrs. Goldwater

"Inconvenient Baby"

The Washington area was recently shocked when an employee of the State Department and his wife gave away for adoption their new born baby because it would be inconvenient and cramp their style to have an infant around the house.

This selfish couple, reputed to be very intelligent and financially able to care for a third child, say the infant was unexpected, unwanted and unprepared for. That can be said of many babies born into the world, but somehow when the infants arrive the parents do not give them away.

It may be better for the baby to be in a home where he is wanted and welcomed. The little boy is already with the family who wishes to adopt him. May he never know the truth about his intelligent and financially able parents, who consider their work so important to the government that their own flesh and blood is too inconvenient to have around.

'Fore' Into the Night

The first lighted regulation-length public golf course went into operation in Rhode Island a few weeks ago. (A private club in Philadelphia last year was the first in the world to try nighttime playing.)

Reportedly, hundreds of other courses around the country are contemplating the move, for installing floodlights would add about 30 playing hours each week and help relieve the weekend crush.

Women, unless they play the game themselves, may view this development with something less than enthusiasm. Now hubby will have one more reason for wanting a night out with the boys.

But it's a lot healthier, possibly cheaper, too, than sitting motionless around a poker table, imbibing and inhaling. And it could mean that hubby—just might—be available more often Saturday afternoons to lend a hand with the household chores.

Progress always has its price — for somebody.

The World Today

Barry Is Keeping GOP Fires Out

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—This Republican convention has all the usual — bands, singing, too many speeches—and no fire, thanks to the man with the extinguisher, Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Two things looked certain before the delegates got here: that Goldwater had the presidential nomination locked up and Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton had no chance for it.

Every time Scranton tried to light a match it got snuffed with silence, or near-silence, by the highly confident, well-oiled Goldwater organization.

The attitude and the strategy were obvious enough: Why get Scranton anymore attention by arguing with him? There's no sign Scranton has been able to inflame the delegates from the time he announced his opposition to Goldwater last June 12. On the contrary, his bid for the nomination so far has looked extremely inept and futile.

This is an example: Sunday night, the convention eve, Goldwater received a letter over Scranton's signature in contemptuous language which the governor himself now says was "too strong." Goldwater was angry. But Goldwater's aides played it cool.

They sent a copy of the letter to every delegate and alternate delegate in the belief it would backfire against Scranton. They attached a note from Goldwater's campaign manager, Denis Kitchel, who said the letter "tragically" reflected on the party and the convention.

But Monday Scranton said he didn't compose the letter, and an aide said the governor hadn't seen it before it went to Goldwater. But Scranton said he is responsible for the letter, nevertheless.

By the time Scranton had decided to get into the contest in June, after wrestling with himself, Goldwater already had enormous delegate strength. He had been building it for 3½ years. Scranton had only about six weeks before the convention to undo it.

His main argument for getting into the race, of course, had to be that Goldwater was not the man for the nomination. To be convincing he would have had to show a vast difference between him and Goldwater or a real danger in Goldwater.

Instead, he started off politely, got impolite, got polite again. It was an on-and-off performance. It seemed uncertain. In short, what he waged was anything but a fierce, all-out fight. Finally, he worked up to calling Goldwater unfit for the presidency.

Meanwhile he put great reliance—or appeared to—in the hope that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower would work the necessary magic of swinging delegates to him by coming out in his support.

This kind of impression was further built up by Henry Cabot Lodge after a talk with Eisenhower. Lodge announced he had quit his job as U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam to come home to help Scranton win.

The former president chilled all this by insisting he was staying neutral.

So Scranton lost what might have been his best bet for influencing the delegates. What good, if any, Lodge was ever able to do for Scranton isn't clear at this writing.

Just before the convention Scranton was so obviously not making progress in winning delegates for himself or weaning them away from Goldwater that he went out to Illinois and started shaking hands with commuters in a railroad station.

But most of the Illinois delegates had already lined up with Goldwater. So what was Scranton doing shaking hands with commuters? He explained it was to convince Illinois Republicans to put the heat on the delegates to join up with Scranton. It didn't work.

If Scranton still hoped somehow Eisenhower might help him, he got his final disillusionment Monday as the convention opened, and Eisenhower held a news conference. He said he wouldn't endorse anyone.

Democrat Pick-ups

Sherry is three years old and was visiting her grandmother here. She loves all kinds of pets so her grandmother was telling her that Mary Frances, a friend of hers, had some new baby kittens and a little puppy.

Of course the little girl wanted to see them and her grandmother took her over to her friend's house to see them. Sherry would pet the kittens and cuddle the puppy, then Mary Frances asked her if she would like to see Pedro, the donkey, that stays in a pasture back of her yard.

They went outside and slowly Pedro wandered up to the fence and stuck his head over it.

Sherry looked at him, then at her grandmother, then she said: "Pedro, this is my Mam-Maw."

That, said the grandmother, was the first time she had ever been introduced to a donkey but she thought it was the nicest introduction she had ever had. H. L.

We the Women

Best Way to Change Tire

By Ruth Millett
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Car-care courses at YWCAs nationwide are offering to teach women — among other things — how to change a tire.

Any woman worth her salt knows exactly how to get a tire changed.

Say she is on the highway when a tire suddenly goes thumping flat. What is the first thing she does? Open the trunk and get out the jack and start to work?

Of course not. The first thing she does is open her handbag, take out her mirror and check her hair and lipstick.

Then she climbs out of the car and stands looking at the flat helplessly, until a car with a man at the wheel comes along.

A few clouds may pass her by — but soon enough some gallant gentleman (often it will be a truck driver) will pull off the road and say something like, "Looks like you need a little help here."

The woman will beam at him as though he were a knight in armor — and the man will roll up his sleeves and go to work.

When the tire is changed, the woman will tell him how nice he was to stop, and she doesn't know what she would have done if he hadn't come to her aid. And the man will say it was nothing at all, climb back in his car or truck, feeling good for having done a helpless woman a good turn.

The woman will think how wonderful it is that there still are gentlemen in the world.

Isn't that a happier solution than to teach women how to get out and change tires themselves?

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Infections, Poisoning Could Cause Neuritis

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.,
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Q — Just what is neuritis? What causes it and what can be done for it?

A — Neuritis is a nerve inflammation that may be caused by lead, arsenic and other forms of poisoning. It may also be caused by various infections including diphtheria, leprosy, German measles, Rocky Mountain spotted fever and typhoid. Some drugs have been known to cause it. If a motor nerve is involved, the chief symptom is weakness or paralysis. If a sensory nerve is involved you would have pain or numbness. Your doctor must first determine the cause. That will determine what treatment is needed.

Q — My doctor says I have Morton's toe. Is it common? Will an operation help?

A — Morton's toe is the name given to a sharp pain in the third or fourth toe which is seen chiefly in women. It is caused by wearing high-heeled shoes that are too tight. Early in the course of the disease you can get relief from the sudden severe pain by removing your shoe and working the muscles and joints of your foot.

At this stage the disease can be prevented from developing by switching to flat well-fitted shoes. An anterior arch support may also help but, when the condition becomes chronic, a small benign nerve tumor develops. At this stage the only relief is by surgical removal of the tumor. The operation is fairly simple.

Q — My doctor says I have a P.A.T. heart condition. He is giving me Vistaril and quinidine. What is this disease and what do these drugs do?

A — P.A.T. is short for paroxysmal auricular tachycardia, a condition characterized by attacks of fast heart action (between 150 and 250 beats a minute). Vistaril is a brand of hydroxyzine pamoate, an antihistaminic especially recommended for persons with tachycardia, and quinidine has a direct slowing action on the heart. When taken under strict medical supervision there should be few, if any, side effects.

Q — What would cause small blisterlike bumps to form from time to time on my eyelids? They seem to contain a small amount of pus.

A — Small cysts of the eyelids are fairly common. They may contain pus or thick mucus. They are due to obstruction of the outlet of sweat glands or mucus glands and may irritate the cornea. They can usually be punctured or scraped off easily, after which drops should be placed in the eye.

Polly's Pointers®

The Handy Pipe Cleaner

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY — I am a retired old geezer who smokes a pipe and helps with the housework. When you try to close the ends of a plastic bread bag, twisting the ends shut does not work very well. One day I was trying to twist an ornery one shut and it would not stay put so I twisted one of my pipe cleaners around it before I let go and it worked just fine. One or two times around is all that is needed and they can be used over and over again.—GALE F.

GIRLS—Have you noticed that when men help with the housework they come up with some good ideas?—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—My little girl, who is a Brownie Scout, constantly lost her Brownie pin which she wears on the pocket of her dress. I cut a piece of elastic about ½-inch long, just large enough to fasten the pin through and placed it on the inside of the pocket. I pinned the pin through the pocket into the elastic and it stays in place. The elastic keeps it from sliding and should the catch open, it holds the pin onto the pocket.—MRS. L. B.

DEAR POLLY — I have an idea for a cute and inexpensive pincushion. Use a pink foam hair roller that has a matching plastic holder. Snap it closed, hang on a pink ribbon, with bows, and stick pins and needles in the foam. Thumbtack the ribbon to vanity mirror or ironing board.—FLO

DEAR POLLY — For my grandson's birthday, I baked a white cake mix in an 8-inch layer cake pan. When cool, I cut the cake into nine squares and iced them as individual squares and edged each like a child's block with red and blue tinted icing. In the center of each I made, with icing, the letters of his name and on the sides put numbers and ABCs. They really looked like blocks and gave him great pleasure.—MRS. H. E. M.

GIRLS—Baking such a cake in a square pan would make every bit of the cake useable for "blocks."—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—Make a number of holes in the bottom of galvanized garbage cans so the moisture drains out.—FRAN

GIRLS—This would be fine if the can stands on the ground. If it is on the garage or basement floor, put several thick-nesses of newspaper under it or you may have cleaning up to do.—POLLY.

Miss Patsy Mathew Becomes Bride Of Mr. James Windsor Prather

Miss Patsy Mathew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Mathew, Windsor, was united in marriage to Mr. James Windsor Prather, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Prather, Kansas City North, at half past three o'clock, Saturday, June 20, at Avondale Methodist Church, Kansas City North.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Roy M. Stuart. Two candelabra entwined with polished lemon leaves, and two baskets of white shasta daisies and white gladioli provided the setting for the ceremony.

Preceding the ceremony, organ music was played by Mrs. Hugh Inman, who also accompanied Mrs. Don Starkey, soloist, who sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Candles were lighted by Miss Nancy Hodge, cousin of the bridegroom, and Miss Jane Hunter, cousin of the bride. They wore identically styled blue tulle dresses.

Maid of honor, Miss Martha Prather, sister of the bridegroom, and bridesmaid Mrs. Don Bullock carried nosegays of white shasta daisies with blue centers and wore identically styled dresses of blue organza with tiered overskirts, and large picture hats.

Mr. Neal Lang served as ring-bearer. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a misty white gown of silk organza and Chantilly lace styled with a basque bodice and featuring a scalloped Sabrina neckline edged with sequins and pearls. Long silk sleeves tapered to traditional points over the hands. The full skirt was enhanced with vertical panels of lace in the front and highlighted with a lace tiered effect and drifted into a chapel train. Her bouffant veil of illusion fell from a double crown of pearls and novelty braid. Her bouquet was an arrangement of white shasta daisies.

'Sound of Music' Role Invitation To Miss Tibbitts

Miss Barbara Tibbitts, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tibbitts, 1206 Sue Lane, has received a letter from Richard H. Berger, production director at the Starlight Theatre, Kansas City, asking her if she would be interested in being in the production "Sound of Music."

Rehearsal, according to the letter, will start Aug. 17, and the play will be for two weeks, Aug. 24 through Sept. 6.

Miss Tibbitts, whose voice attracted a good deal of attention during the past year or so locally both through her singing with the music department of Smith-Cotton High School, from which she was graduated this spring, and other appearances she made, will enter the University of Missouri at Kansas City on Aug. 8. She, however, plans also, to take part in the production at the Starlight.

Troop 67, Horace Mann School PTA, Charles Reisdorph, adult; John Cairer, Charles Cover, Mike Dalton, Tommy Reisdorph, Tim Logan, Robin Payne, Charles Garrett, Dale Garrett, Dan Wilson, Mike Herbst.

Troop 151, Otterville Chamber of Commerce; Duane Miller, Scoutmaster; Billy Peoples, Danny Gant.

The boys will participate in a closing ceremony at 2 p.m. Saturday, July 18.

Paint Can Episode Wins Award for Hill

KANSAS CITY (AP) —Bob Slater of the St. Joseph News Press is the June winner in the short story contest among Missouri Associated Press member staffers.

His story concerned a report to police about a possible burglar on a service station roof. Police checked and found it was a husband, equipped with binoculars, checking up on his wife who was working in a nearby cafe.

William D. Hill, Sedalia Democrat, was second with his story on the man who called a paint store to inquire about what kind of paint remover to use on his wife, who had punched a hole in a spray paint can.

Jack Webb, Fulton Sun-Gazette, was third with his yarn about the woman who complained the city's workmen were too efficient during cleanup week. She reported they took some belongings she had set aside for a moving operation.

Mrs. Robert Leftwich

Miss Barbara Houchen is Bride Of Mr. Robert Leftwich June 27

Wesley Methodist Church was the scene of the marriage of Miss Barbara Houchen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Houchen, Houstonia, to Mr. Robert Leftwich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Leftwich, Hughesville, at seven o'clock Saturday evening, June 27.

The Rev. George Sparling, pastor, read the double ring ceremony at the altar which was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and pink asters, large emerald palms and two nine branch brass candelabra, entwined with foliage, tied with white satin bows, and holding lighted cathedral tapers. A white carpet covered the center aisle.

Mrs. Earl Gregory, organist, played wedding selections preceding the ceremony, and the traditional wedding march. She accompanied Miss Jill Ragland, who sang "O Promise Me" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of veiled silk organza. The slender Dresden bodice was designed with elbow length sleeves and a high scoop neckline framed with pearl trimmed Alencon lace. On each side of the skirt front, an applique of Alencon extended from waist to hemline, defining the tulip silhouette. Unpressed pleats at the sides and back released the skirt fullness and lengthened to a great chapel train. Rosettes of organza, encrusted with pearls, held her triple pouf veil of illusion. She carried a prayer book arrangement of a white orchid surrounded by stephanotis and ivy. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Roger Cave, Kansas City. She wore a street length dress of dark pink peau de soie, with a bell shaped skirt. The headpiece was a nylon tulle veil secured to a matching crown of peau de soie. She carried a crescent style bouquet of shell pink Esther-Reed daisies, tied with pink satin.

Serving as ushers were Mr. Jim Houchen, Houstonia, brother of the bride, Mr. Dave Daventport, Drexel, Mr. Dale Collier, Dewitt, and Mr. Paul Gibbs of Kansas City.

Mrs. Houchen chose for her daughter's wedding a lime green dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of white Cymbidium orchids.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a powder blue dress with white accessories. She also wore a white Cymbidium orchid with her ensemble.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church dining area, with 200 guests attending.

The bride's table was draped with a hand embroidered cut-work cloth. Smilax and pink daisies garlanded the table and the triple tiered wedding cake. The cake was decorated with pink sugar roses and was topped with a miniature bridal couple. At the table ends, crystal candelabra, holding lighted white tapers, were placed.

Miss Carolyn Schmidt, Kearney, and Miss Barbara Raines, Nelson, served cake and punch. Mrs. Frank McCarty, Pleasant Hill, Ill., aunt of the bride, was in charge of the reception.

Mrs. Carl Mitts attended the guest book.

The gift table was attended by Miss Janet Vocate, Lexington, and Miss Mary Schuler, Houstonia.

For her going away costume, the bride chose a two piece pink dress with pink accessories. A white orchid corsage completed her costume. After the reception, the couple left for a wedding trip to Colorado. The pair is at home in Hughesville.

The bride is a 1964 graduate of Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg. She plans to teach third grade at the newly re-organized R-V School in the fall.

The bridegroom, a 1964 graduate of the University of Missouri, Columbia, is engaged in farming with his father.

A rehearsal dinner, given by the bridegroom's parents, was served June 26 at Flat Creek Inn for the bridal party and their families.

Mrs. Roger Cave was hostess

Bind Over Eldon Man On Manslaughter Rap

TUSCUMBIA, Mo. (AP) —A 24-year-old Eldon, Mo., man, Leland E. Humphrey was bound over to Circuit Court Monday for trial on a manslaughter charge in the traffic death July 3 of Mrs. Vernell L. Smith, 42, of Bethalto, Ill.

Humphrey supplied bond of $1,000, set by Magistrate Jackson C. Stanton. His trial probably will be called in the September term of court.

Humphrey was the driver of one of three cars involved in the accident which resulted in Mrs. Smith's death. The Missouri Highway Patrol said Humphrey's car clipped the rear of two cars after he passed a line of traffic and the car in which she was riding overturned three times.

Houston Loses To Giants; Cards Take Doubleheader

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Nellie Fox doesn't have much of an opinion on topless bathing suits, but you can tell he's not altogether crazy about two-piece bats.

Fox, the veteran Houston second baseman who drove in the winning run against National League-leading San Francisco Sunday night, went hitless as the Colts lost to the Giants 5-3 Monday night—just hours after the Great Bat-Breaking Incident of 1964 came to light.

Fox drove in the winning run for the Colts Sunday with a single in the ninth inning off Gaylord Perry, who stormed off the mound, picked up Fox' bat and smashed it against the Giants' dugout. Fox' bat came apart—so he had to use a new one Monday night.

"These new bats are soft," said Fox, "and it takes a while to get them into shape. Perry's action was darn bush."

"What Perry did," said Houston Manager Harry Craft, "was like going into your home and breaking your best set of dishes."

While Fox' new bat held no hits, Lou Brock's old one collected seven as the St. Louis Cardinals swept a doubleheader from Pittsburgh 5-4 in 12 innings and 12-5.

Brock, acquired by St. Louis in a trade with the Chicago Cubs, slammed a homer, double and single in the first game and came back with a homer, triple and two singles in the nightcap. He has hit at a .356 clip since joining St. Louis, lifting his average to .285.

Elsewhere, Philadelphia remained one game back of the Giants by edging Milwaukee and Warren Spahn 3-2 and the Chicago Cubs belted the Los Angeles Dodgers 10-4.

Monday night's Houston-San Francisco game was not without incident as Craft was ejected for the second night in a row.

The latest hassle revolved around Umpire Tony Venzon's ruling that Colt shortstop Eddie Kasko did not touch second base on an attempted force out in the ninth inning. That left two Giants on base and led to the decisive runs. Orlando Cepeda's sacrifice fly brought in the tie-breaker before Jim Hart singled in an insurance run.

The victory went to O'Dell, who this time didn't get into an argument, got an opportunity to pitch and allowed only one hit in four innings of relief work.

At Pittsburgh, the Cardinals lashed 15 hits in the first game before finally winning on Julian Javier's run-scoring single in the 12th inning. Twenty hits and six Pittsburgh errors made the nightcap easier. Bill White hit a homer in each game for the Cardinals.

The Phillies, who had lost four straight to left-handers, snapped the string by beating Spahn as Richie Allen slammed a double and triple and scored two runs. Spahn's loss left him with a 6-9 record but he went the distance for the first time in 12 games.

The Cubs beat the Dodgers and Don Drysdale, 11-8 with a five-run uprising after two were out in the sixth inning. Andre Rodgers' three-run homer was the big blow. Larry Jackson got the victory, his 12th against six losses.

Bears Work To Defend NFL Crown

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago Bears are back at work, getting ready to defend their National Football League championship. First item of business for George Halas and his staff will be sharpening up the offense.

Rookies were in the majority Monday when the Bears' early camp opened at St. Joseph's College at Rensselaer, Ind., where the club has trained for 21 years.

Never one to spare the horses, Halas planned to get right down to heavy work immediately just as he did last year. The Bears play the College All-Stars Aug. 7 at Soldier Field in Chicago.

As early as the Bears were, they were not the first to take the field. The Los Angeles Rams, New York Giants, Dallas Cowboys, Cleveland Browns and Philadelphia Eagles all beat them to the punch with their rookie camps.

By next Monday all 14 NFL teams will have their camps open and some will have the veterans on hand, too.

The American Football League also is getting ready to swing into action with the New York Jets' rookies and the Denver Broncos due to open up Wednesday. The Jets will train at Peekskill, N.Y., and the Broncos at Fort Collins, Colo.

The first pre-season game is the Bears-All Stars at Chicago Friday, Aug. 7. The rest of the NFL teams, except Pittsburgh, and the AFL will get busy the same weekend. Pittsburgh's first game is Aug. 14. The regular season opens in both leagues the weekend of Sept. 12-13.

Mike DeLozier Fourth In State Jaycee Tourney

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—Mike Crider, of St. Charles, Mo., won the title in the State JC's Junior Golf Tournament Monday after a tie forced a three-way playoff.

Crider tied with Bill Pess, Kansas City, and David Callaway, Springfield, at 74 over the par-71 Twin Oaks Country Club course. The three tied on the first two extra holes but Crider won with a par 5 on the third to win while Pess had a bogey 6 and Callaway a 7.

Fourth place went to Mike DeLozier, Sedalia, with 75 in another playoff. DeLozier won on the first extra hole from Ken Whipple, St. Charles.

The top four finishers in the tournament that attracted 22 players will represent Missouri in the International J C Junior Championship Tournament at South St. Paul Aug. 3-8.

Phillies Edge 'Bugs In Eight Innings

An extra inning was required to determine the winner in girls' Khoury League softball Monday at Liberty Park. In the chic league, the Phillies edged the Lady Bugs 14-11 in eight innings. Most of the action was seen in the seventh inning. Karen Estill hit a homer with two on for the Lady Bugs to bring them from behind. Linda Lutjen then slammed a homer to tie the score 11-11.

With two outs and two on in the eighth, Beverly Morris got a four-base hit for the Phillies to put them in the winning column. Barbara Davis saved the day for the Phillies when she made a running catch with the bases loaded to retire the side.

Pitching duties for the Phillies were shared by Barbara Davis with three strike-outs and Teresa Davis with two strike-outs. Linda Lutjen absorbed the loss for the Lady Bugs with four strike-outs.

Competitive Spirit There, 'Feel' Gone

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The competitive desire is still there but the "feel" is gone, says Ben Hogan, making a comeback in the PGA Golf Championship at the age of 51.

"I am playing now largely on instinct," said the once-feared Texas hawk today. "It's all mechanical. If everything falls into place I might turn up with a fairly good score, but it would be lucky."

"The thing I miss most is feel for a course. You've got to have it to be a winner. You get it by practice and making a detailed study of the course. I'm not able to do it any more."

Hogan, playing in his first PGA in 11 years, will be one of 165 pros teeing off Thursday over the flat and relatively short Columbus Country Club course in the 46th professional championship.

The years seem to have taken little toll from the grim, strong-jawed onetime blacksmith's son who won four U.S. Opens, two Masters, two PGAs and the British Open to become one of the game's immortals.

There are only small flecks of gray in his hair. His face is not brown. He is a trim 160 pounds. He still walks the fairways with a majesty denied other men—stiff-legged from a near fatal auto accident, white cap pulled low over his eyes, his lips a firm line of determination and gripping an inevitable cigarette.

Close associates contend Hogan is hitting the ball as well as he ever did from tee to green

Imaginary Example Of Team Move

NEW YORK (AP)—The modern trend in baseball is to move the team, whenever anything goes wrong. Here's how it works, in an imaginary example taken from a meeting of the major league Mudcats:

VICE PRESIDENT: We've been in this town two weeks already, boss. The boys were wondering whether to sew the name on their uniforms, or keep on using that disappearing ink.

OWNER: Wait until we hear from the City Council. They're voting today on our demands for a new stadium, a million-dollar annual subsidy, free rent, 100 home games a year, 10 free games in the standings and the right to charge $5 for a bottle of beer.

GENERAL MANAGER (rushing into meeting): Boss, they turned us down.

OWNER: No $5 beer?

GM: Oh that was all right, boss. And they agreed to furnish Cadillacs for you and your family for life. But they refused to pass a law making it a criminal offense to stay away from the baseball park on Sunday.

OWNER: I'm sick of fooling around with those tuddy-duddies at City Hall. This means we move the team.

VP: Where are we going, Dad?

OWNER: I got lots of offers. I'll take them all. We'll play in a different town every night in the week. We'll keep moving. That's the secret. Then we won't hear a lot of junk about getting some pitchers or some hitters, or beating the Yankees. By the time the yokels find out that the Yankees are better than we are we'll be gone, halfway across the country.

VP: Just one question, dad. What will the Commissioner say? You know, old Whatshisname?

OWNER: The Commissioner? What's he got to do with it? This is baseball, son. Let's get a move on.

but suffers from nerves on the putting greens.

A Zany World

Monday Produces Hectic Developments In Baseball

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago White Sox owe Washington a player, Vic Power owes the American League $250. And Gaylord Perry owes the Houston Colts $3.98.

Such was the situation today in baseball's zany world after a hectic Monday that produced these developments:

—The Senators and White Sox completed a trade one month after the trading deadline with first baseman Bill (Moose) Skowron and pitcher Carl Bouladin going to Chicago in exchange for first baseman Joe Cunningham and a player to be named later.

—The American League denied a hearing to Vic Power of the Los Angeles Angels, who has been fined $250 and suspended for 10 days for allegedly spitting in an umpire's face.

—The National League acknowledged it had received a protest from the Colts because Perry, a San Francisco relief pitcher, broke one of Nellie Fox' bats. The Colts also said Perry was being billed for the cost of the bat.

Chiefs Place Record On Line With Moberly

The Sedalia Chiefs place their overall season record of 13 wins and two losses on the line tonight as they travel to Moberly to play the locals there. The Chiefs have already downed Moberly in a contest earlier this season. League record for the Chiefs is 10-0.

The Chiefs will return to the Liberty Park diamond Thursday night to tangle with the Sedalia Merchants. The Merchants are leading in the series against the Chiefs, 2-1, but the Chiefs will be out to even the score. The two losses to the Merchants are the only mark against the Chiefs. Game time is 8 p. m.

The game originally scheduled with Marshall for Thursday has been rescheduled for Sunday at Marshall.

The Senators-White Sox deal was called a double waiver transaction because they could not call it anything else.

Under baseball law, player deals made after June 15 must be via the waiver route with a waiver price of $20,000 attached to each piece of merchandise.

Now, the White Sox will waive another player to the Senators in a week or 10 days to complete the transaction.

Power's actions in the first game of a doubleheader last Friday night against Chicago were reported to AL headquarters by Umpire Jim Honohick, who said Power "bumped me three times and spit in my face deliberately and willfully."

Power said he hadn't.

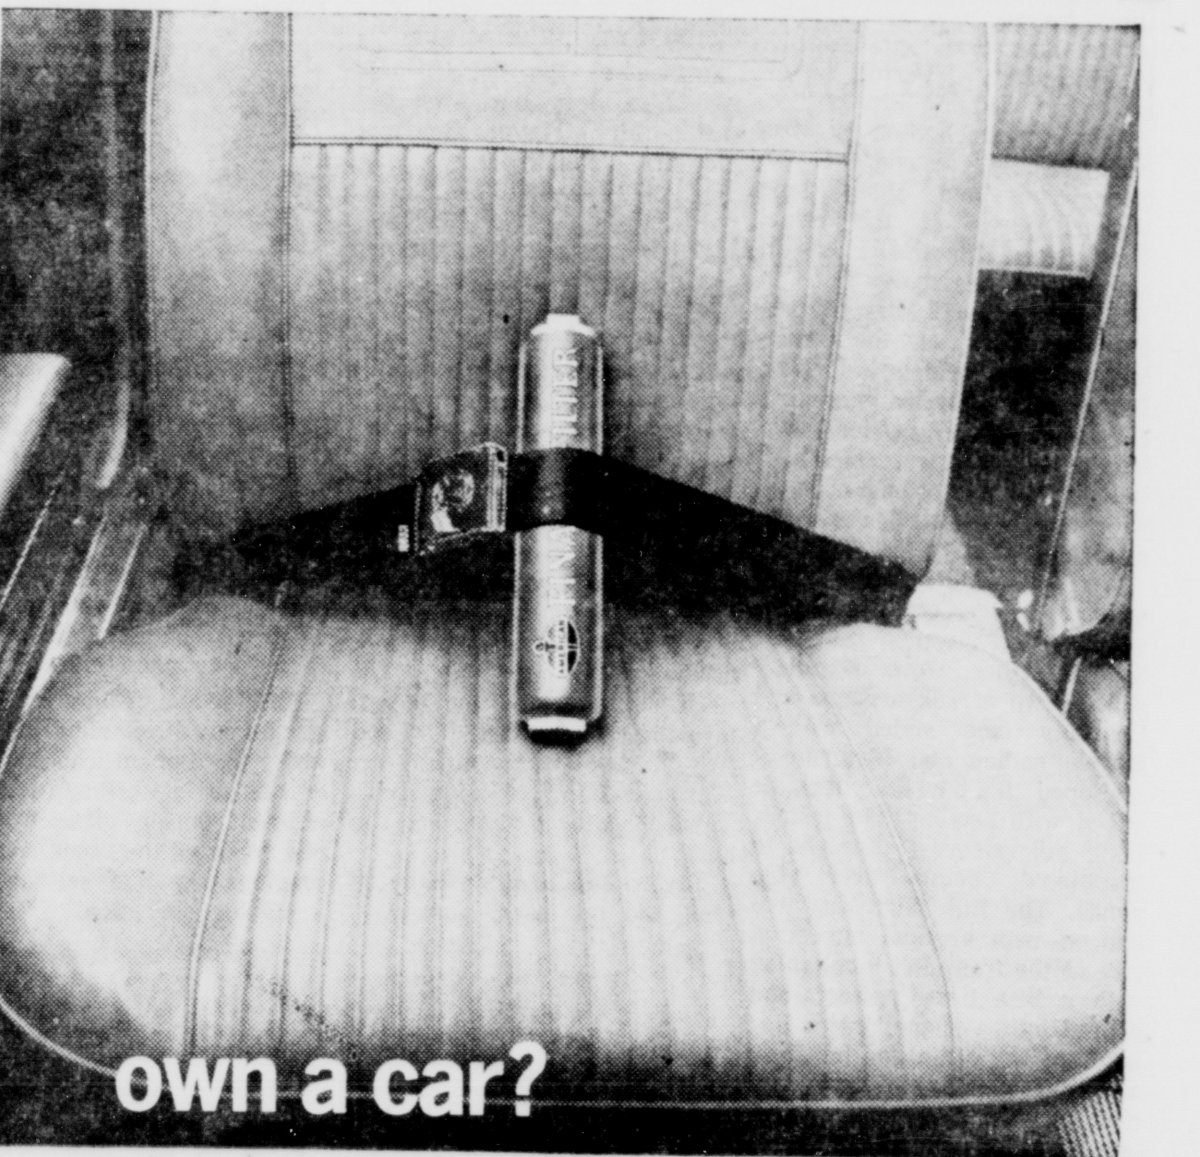

The American League, which never announces refusals to grant hearings, said through league publicist Joe McKeeney: "We refused a hearing. We felt that under the league constitution we did not have to grant a hearing and so we did not do so."

The Perry-Fox development was the latest to be brought out after Sunday's game at Houston in which San Francisco reliever Billy O'Dell was thrown out for arguing even before he had made one pitch and Perry sat down on the mound to charge his shoes after getting a hurry-up call to replace O'Dell.

Fox, who previously had singled in the tying run for the Colts, drove in the winning run with a single in the ninth inning. Perry, in a rage, stormed off the mound, picked up Fox' bat and smashed it against the side of the Giants' dugout.

Chicago, Athletics Split; Detroit Takes Baltimore

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Home runs were flying over American League fences at a record clip but Al Lopez wasn't concerned—until one of them got lost on Charley Finley's pennant porch.

Then the White Sox pilot blew his top.

There were 25 homers hit in the AL Monday, four more than the previous mark for one league in a five-game schedule and one more than Lopez counted.

He's convinced that Wayne Causey's homer in the second game of a doubleheader, a three-run shot that led to an 8-7 Kansas City victory over the White Sox, was nothing more than a figment of Finley's runaway green-and-gold drawing board.

Chicago had taken the first game 8-6 and was leading 6-3 in the seventh inning of the nightcap when Causey's drive fell where a pole separates the shortened portion of Municipal Stadium from the high wall in center field.

The umpires ruled the ball had cleared the porch's low fence. Lopez contended it had hit the wall in center and was playable. Lopez lost the debate and was tossed out of the game when he resumed it an inning later.

Ron Hansen of the White Sox and the Athletics' Jim Gentile then matched eighth-inning homers before Causey's bases-loaded single in the ninth broke up the eight-homer slugfest.

The split cost Chicago a chance to gain 1½ games on league-leading Baltimore, which dropped a 10-inning 4-3 decision to Detroit. The New York Yankees, however, gained a game on the Orioles with a 10-4 rout of Cleveland. Boston blanked Washington 7-0 in the other game scheduled.

The Chicago-Kansas City twin bill produced 11 home runs. First game winner Gary Peters, 10-4, poked a three-run homer to pace the White Sox' 16-hit attack. George Alusik and Dick Green connected for the A's.

Peter Ward, Don Buford, Gene Stephens and Hansen homered for the Sox; Manny Jimenez, Ed Charles, Causey and Gentile for the A's in the nightcap. Greens' single, a double by Ken Harrelson and an intentional pass set the stage for Causey's game-winning hit that snapped KC's six-game losing streak.

Jerry Lumpe's bases-loaded single in the 10th gave the Tigers their second straight one-run victory over Baltimore, which had won 21 of 23 one-run verdicts before Sunday.

Brooks Robinson's two-run ninth-inning homer sent the game into overtime after Don Demeter's solo shot in the second and two unearned runs in the sixth had given the Tigers a 3-1 bulge. Sam Bowers' homers accounted for the Orioles' first run.

The Yankees climbed to within 1½ games of Baltimore with their seventh straight victory over the Indians. Tom Tresh hit a pair of two-run homers—one from each side of the plate—and Mickey Mantle and Cleve Boyer also homered, offsetting three Cleveland circuits.

Boston's Bill Monbouquette turned in the top pitching performance—a four-hit shutout—and the Red Sox twice struck for back-to-back homers. Dick Stuart and Lee Thomas connected in the five-run fourth inning and Felix Mantilla and Tony Conigliaro duplicated in the eighth.

Blue Monday For Hurlers, Not Batters

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was Blue Monday for pitchers. But for fellows like Dick Groat, Lou Brock, Bill White, Julian Javier, George Alusik, Manny Jimenez, Wayne Causey, etc., this odd day for double-headers could not have been more pleasant.

Groat, Brock, White and Javier slugged the Cardinals to a twin victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-4, and 12-5, in Pittsburgh.

The Cardinals hammered out 35 hits, including two homers each by Brock and White. The Pirates fell short with 21 safeties and only two home runs.

Chicago outlasted the A's in their opener in Kansas City, 8-6, despite a three-run homer by Alusik and a solo clout by Dick Green. But Kansas City overcame a four-run deficit in the nightcap on Causey's three-run homer and game-winning single, 8-7.

The Cardinals are 8½ games behind San Francisco and two games over the 500 mark.

Brock, who collected seven hits for the day, raced to an inside-the-park homer in the opener for a 3-2 lead, but Pittsburgh tied the score in the ninth.

Bill White hit a solo clout in the 10th, but Bob Bailey matched it with two out in the last half of the inning.

White, who had six hits and five RBIs led off the 12th with a hit and came around with the clincher on hits by Mike Shannon and Javier, who also had six hits, and three RBIs.

White's three-run blast broke a 2-2 tie in the nightcap and assured Mike Cuellar of his first major league victory.

Groat collected five hits and Ken Boyer had four. Pittsburgh chipped in with six errors, two wild pitches and a passed ball. The A's managed 26 hits, one less than the White Sox, for the day. The teams split eight homers in the second game with Ed Charles and Jim Gentile joining Jimenez and Causey.

Green had six hits and Ken Harrelson had a perfect two for two in each game.

Diego Segui (7-7) will throw for the A's tonight against Cleveland's Sam McDowell (3-3) in Kansas City.

COMING DOWN—The three buildings on Ohio between the Union Savings Bank and the alley on the east side of the street are being razed to make way for a new bank drive-in facility. Above, one of the buildings has almost been razed. The new facility will be an "island" type facility, connected to the main bank building by a tunnel. The pavement around the facility will be ice-free. Bank officials say the work should be completed this fall. Concrete for the tunnel is already being poured. (Democrat-Capital photo)

Nicklaus To Try Luck In Own Yard

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —

Jack Nicklaus traveled 10,000 miles, tied the St. Andrews course record, sat up all night worrying about a train wreck, lost his passport, had to talk his way back into the country, got a vaccination he didn't need and then had to switch airplanes when an engine conked out.

And he still didn't qualify for the World Series of Golf.

So this week Big Jack will try it in his own back yard.

The last of the Big Four golf titles—the PGA—opens Thursday here in the town where the 24-year-old Golden Bear grew up and learned to bash the ball farther than any other player.

It's Jack's last chance to get into the field in the World Series, which is played just up the road in Akron, and pays $50,000 to the winner. Nicklaus has won it both years it has been played.

Arnold Palmer won the Masters. Ken Venturi took the U.S. Open, and Tony Lema the British Open last week despite a great charge by Nicklaus.

They are here for the PGA, plus such as Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson and Sam Snead, but Nicklaus will have home cooking and home rooting going for him.

He was glad to get back to both after the British Open, where he shot a course record, equaling 66 and a 68 on the final day for the finest two rounds ever played in one day at hallowed St. Andrews.

Lema replied with 68 and 70, and won by five strokes.

But Nicklaus' troubles were only beginning. He and his wife, Barbara, decided to take the train from Scotland to London. "I was up all night, worrying," he said. "I think the trains run on the wrong side over there anyway, it always sounded to me like we were going to crash everytime one came in the other direction."

"After all, I haven't been on a train since I was 12 years old. Then I lost the passports. "Well, they let us get on the plane, and we talked our way into the country when we hit New York, but we had to get new vaccinations, and I think mine is going to take."

"Then we got on a private plane I borrowed, and just got in the air and one of the engines conked out, so we had to go back and get another plane. Quite a trip."

Cliches Fill Air At GOP Hoopla

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller, chairman of the Republican National Committee, threw out the first cliché at 10:35 a.m.:

"Will the sergeant-at-arms please clear the aisles so we may commence our business."

And so the political pageant began at the Cow Palace in San Francisco. Television viewers started to savor the time-worn phrases that are hauled out every four years.

Sen. Carl T. Curtis of Nebraska was the first to offer the surefire chestnut: "We are here to nominate the next president of the United States."

Cliche piled on cliché as the Republican National Convention went about the business of getting organized. Fortunately for the television viewers, though not for the speakers, the three networks roved their cameras about the Cow Palace and the beehive hotels of San Francisco in search of more vital copy.

The pickings were lean. There was much ado about the letter which Gov. William W. Scranton sent to Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Scranton appeared on all three networks to deny he wrote it but accepted responsibility for it. There were recurring shots of CORE pickets outside the arena. Brief, abortive fights over convention rules and credentials failed to generate much drama.

The afternoon coverage featured a press conference by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. On one question he drew laughter by replying with a convention device: "Pennsylvania passes."

The evening oratory offered two splendid examples of political style. First came Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who offered a tribute to Herbert Hoover and then read a message from the former president.

No man to attempt spellbinding an inattentive crowd, Dirksen waited for the maximum of silence he could expect in the cavernous pavilion. Then, his hair elegantly askew, he began intoning his speech in his familiar bass-viol voice.

The keynote, Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, used more modern techniques, if not phraseology. His opener: "We meet here to nominate the next president of the United States."

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Bill McDonald, a 20-year-old, 134 pounder from Topeka, Kan., chalked up a 70 Monday in the first round qualifying of the National Public Links Golf Tournament.

The final qualifying round over the par 35-35-70, 6,593 yard Francis Gross course is today, with the 64 low scorers moving into championship match play Wednesday.

William Farkas Jr., Phoenix, moved in the lead Monday with a 66. George Welsh, Dayton, Ohio, posted 69, and 70s were turned in by Wallace Mizell of Jacksonville, Fla.; Bob Smith, Sacramento, Calif.; and Steve Opperman, San Francisco.

McDonald would have broken 70 but took a bogey five on No. 18 when his tee shot went into the trees.

Only One Spectator For Political Rally

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Only one spectator turned up Monday night at a rally by seven candidates for one seat on the City-Parish Council.

After waiting 30 minutes, the candidates called off the rally, but none of them lost the support of the solitary spectator. He is ineligible to vote in the July 25 election.

Freak Accident Kills St. Louisan

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Crawford Jones, 62, of St. Louis was killed Monday in a freak accident in back of his house.

Police said a neighbor, Joseph Miliken, 51, backed his car into a fence post and the post hit Jones.

Miliken was booked on suspicion of driving while intoxicated and careless driving.

Money Supply Gets Better After An Earlier Slowdown

Solitude Rejected By Masses

By E. G. MARSHALL
(For Cynthia Lowry)
NEW YORK (AP)—Among the basic needs of civilized man are companionship of one's fellows and the stimulation of contrasting temperaments, interests and tastes. And solitude!

The opportunity for solitude is everywhere around us, but most of us are not receptive to it. Rather a boring companion than loneliness.

We have the radio playing while we eat or even while we bathe. People clutch transistor radios as they ride the bus. In stores there is music, in elevators, and from every corner of every street.

People seem afraid of silence and their thoughts. The need for solitude, like many instinctual things, is not recognizable for what it is until it is experienced. One can be alone in a crowded city, certainly, but "cities give not the human senses room enough." The constant hammering of city life erodes one's nerves and spirit.

To be absolutely alone in the midst of nature, with only the sounds of nature, is perhaps the greatest refreshment one can know.

Henry David Thoreau said, "We need to witness our own limits transgressed."

These remain fine-sounding words and sentiments until the day when in the raw middle of winter, you are pulling a toboggan across a meadow with thigh-deep snow, a 25-mile wind blowing and a temperature of 12 degrees below zero biting into your marrow. On the toboggan there is a five-gallon can of kerosene, a 100-pound sack of coal and provisions enough to last three or four days.

You climb a steep logging road to a sugar house in the woods, pulling the toboggan behind you step by painful step. Feet must be pushed down through the snow to well above the knee. Halfway up you stop and look back and see your tracks being covered by wind-blown snow.

Then you see, at long last, the roof peak of your place in the wild. If you had the breath to sing you would.

Sitting before the hearth, the first flames licking the frozen logs into warm life, a cup of hot tea doing the same for you—a sudden joy lifts your spirits, you feel a new health and solace.

After a day or two of solitude one begins to yearn for companionship, but in a new way. Not for diversion or escape from ennui, or from emptiness, but from fullness; the desire to communicate, to sing the songs one has recalled, to relate the anecdote long forgotten, to talk about the weather.

The enrichment of one's soul does not need discussion for affirmation.

panding faster again after a slowdown earlier in the year.

—Inventories that had been rising fast have taken a tumble.

—Retail sales have eked out only a slim increase but still enough to set a high.

The larger money supply is expected to act as a spur to the economy. The inventory cut is considered as removing, at least for a time, a potential danger watched in any prolonged business upswing. And the retail sales advance, slim as it was in June, is dubbed a show of continuing confidence by the consuming public which can bolster the life expectancy of the business expansion.

Government officials and corporate executives have stressed other phases of the economy: record industrial production, employment and personal incomes; bullish sentiment in the stock market; and record earnings.

But the dollars-and-cents nature of inventories, sales and money supply affects the daily health of business and gives a glimpse of the future.

The Federal Reserve Board puts the money supply at $155.9 billion at the end of June, compared with $153.2 billion in December. The supply is arrived at by adding demand deposits and currency outside banks.

Under the board's fairly easy money policy for the last three years, the money supply had been going up steadily—by 3.7 per cent last year. The rate slowed this year, with May standing at $154.5 billion. The sizable increase in June brings the growth rate this year to around 3 per cent.

Some businessmen feel the June gain is due to an easier money policy of late, after a slight lessening of the ease a few months back.

The money supply greases the ways for consumer purchases, business spending, and gives the banks the lendable funds for expansion plans.

Special Week Set

Mayor L. L. Studer has proclaimed Saturday, July 18, as "Strengthen America's Heritage Day," which is being sponsored jointly by the Boy Scouts of America and the Freedom Foundation of Valley Forge, and is asking all citizens to participate in the unselfish and commendable program for betterment of the youths of the country. The program has as its primary purpose the preservation and enrichment of the heritage of freedom for today's and tomorrow's boys.

Young former newspapermen form the core of Governor William W. Scranton's staff in his bid for the Republican presidential nomination. They have been with the Pennsylvania governor almost since he first ran for political office in 1960. Keisling, 28, Reichley, 35, Conny, 32, and Truax, 34, all were reporters and editors. Alessandrini, 50, is a former United States Attorney and Murphy, 35, has been a congressional aide. They are, along with Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and Malcolm Moos, President Eisenhower's former speechwriter, Scranton chief advisers and confidants.

'Before Seventies' Is Lindsey Subject

"Before the Seventies" was the program title presented at the July 11 meeting of Lindsey Circle, Calvary Baptist Church at the church.

The program was given by Mrs. C. L. Cooper, Mrs. C. Hendrickson, Mrs. C. Neville, Mrs. C. E. Miller, Mrs. H. F. Baugh and Mrs. J. F. Mais. Mrs. Myrtle Neville read missionary names and asked members to offer sentence prayers for them for devotional.

IT'S EASY TO UNDERSTAND WHY RAMBLER RANKS SO HIGH IN POPULARITY

Read what MOTOR TREND magazine (July, 1964) says after testing all leading station wagons

"The Rambler Classic V-8 we test drove was, without a doubt, the most comfortable wagon we tested. In addition, both seats are adjustable and recline fully to an almost horizontal position, making it possible for the passenger to nap while traveling.

"Sprinkled throughout the Classic are many unique items that just aren't found on any of our other test wagons. For instance, the Classic has a lockable compartment under the rear floor that can hold small articles like cameras and small appliances.

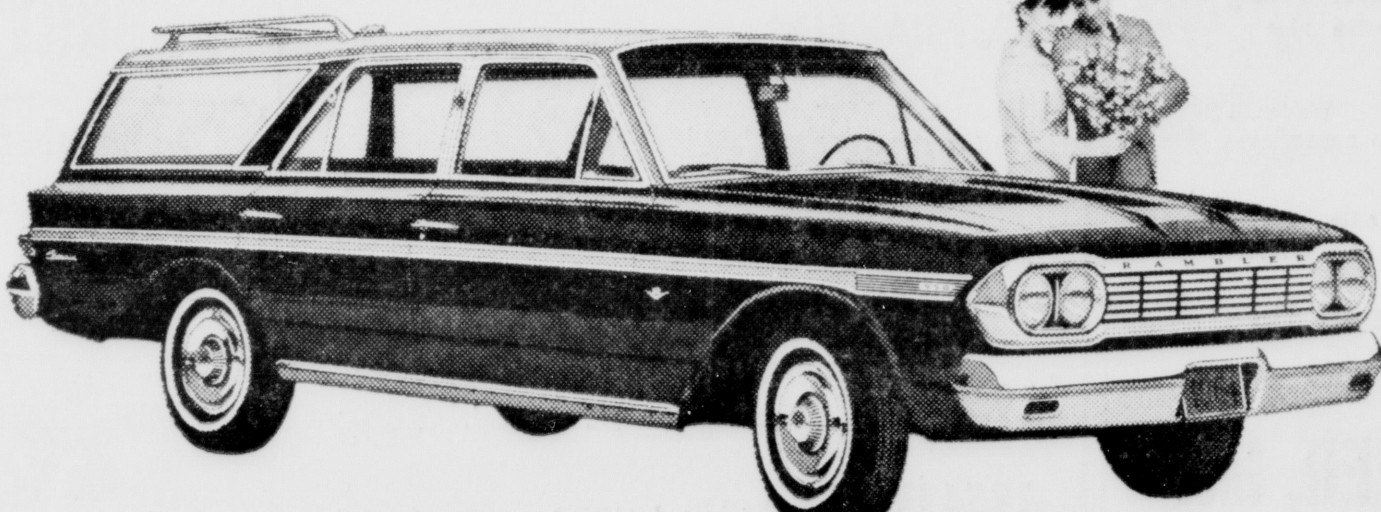

"Our test car handled very well by wagon standards and was the only one, with the possible exception of the American, that we'd say handles as well as a comparable sedan in the line.

"We'll have to call the Classic's brakes better than average in their ability to cope with the extra load. It made little difference in the car's stopping distances.

"For any load-carrying or trailer work, potential buyers should give the V-8 serious consideration over the Six. It costs only $105 extra and gives better gas mileage than most Sixes. Driving very carefully at freeway speeds, we managed to squeeze 24.2 mpg out of our brand-new test wagon, and that was on regular gas.

"The engine isn't heavily stressed at normal driving speeds. At the legal 65-mph cruising speeds (in most states), the Classic is only loafing along at 3000 rpm.

"Inside its unit-construction body, complete silence. Our extra load caused no squeaks or rattles during our testing. The whole car showed excellent attention to detail. It's easy to understand why Rambler ranks third in popularity."

Rambler Classic 770 Cross Country gives you more V-8 power than the standard V-8 in the other two best-selling wagons, and many extra-value features at no extra cost, like Roof-Top Travel Rack, and many more.

Go where the buys are—the big Rambler selling spree is now

Hammond Family Takes Scout Training

O. W. Hammond, Sedalia, is taking specialized training in district commissioner procedure at Philmont Volunteer Training Center, operated by Boy Scouts of America at Philmont Scout Ranch in northeastern New Mexico.

Participating in the family program at the Volunteer Training Center are Mrs. Pat Hammond; Glenna Ann, 13; and Dennis Wayne, 7.

National Scouting leaders are instructors for the 1,500 men who will attend the 34 conferences being offered this summer at the 137,000-acre national Scout camp.

The Training Center is located on the slopes of the Sangre de Cristo Range of the great Rocky Mountain chain where 8,000 Explorers and older Boy Scouts will take part this summer in 12-day expeditions at the largest boys' camp in the world.

Hammond has been active in Scouting for five and one-half years. He is currently serving as Cub Scout roundtable commissioner. He is associated with Boyd & Hammond Contracting Co. as a painter and decorator.

In Missouri... after a swim, beer is a natural

On a hot summer day, a dip in a cool stream can be wonderfully refreshing. Equally refreshing when you're relaxing afterwards with friends is a hearty glass of beer. There's hardly another beverage around that suits what you do for fun as much as beer. Camping, hiking, or just lounging on a lawn chair—beer brings to each just the right touch of extra good living.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

In Missouri...beer goes with fun, with relaxation
